Connie Gayle is a world-renowned beauty expert. After owning and operating a successful skincare salon on Manhattan's prestigious 57th Street, Connie decided to bring her business to her favorite spot: Hawaii. Since 1971, Honolulu has been home to the connie gayle beauty center and beauty products. A registered nurse, Connie credits her medical background in helping her to develop extraordinary beauty products, which keep her worldwide clientele coming back for more.

What makes her products so superior? Her use of natural ingredients, found exclusively on the islands. Discovering that certain Hawaiian flower extracts and sea plants have a restorative effect on the skin and hair, Connie incorporates these unique ingredients into her skincare and haircare lines. "Continually researching new ingredients with the finest chemists around the world encourages me to create innovative, problem-solving products for my clients," says Connie.

Connie Gayle's latest line includes:

● ORCHID

Skincare products featuring Hawaii's native "oil of orchid," which is combined with collagen to encourage skin renewal. The results? Radiant, younger-looking skin that maintains moisture.

● RAIN

Bodycare products which contain pure, untouched water and essences of leaves from the Hawaiian rain forest to bathe the body in luxury

● WHITE GINGER

Haircare products formulated with Hawaiian flower extracts of "white ginger" to soften the hair cuticle, as well as sea derivatives, banana and other unusual ingredients working in harmony to restore hair's natural luster.

● MAILE

Products developed exclusively for men which contain maile and ti leaf, found in the mountains of Hawaii, to condition, moisturize and scent the skin. Maile has a distinctive, long-lasting aroma and was reserved for royalty and is still used for sacred rituals in the islands while ti-leaves are believed to have healing benefits by Hawaiians.

Connie Gayle's beauty advice has been featured in Vogue, Town & Country, Mademoiselle and Elle. No stranger to famous faces, Connie's celebrity clientele includes models and actresses.

When you're in Honolulu, be sure to visit the connie gayle beauty center. This full-service salon (featuring skincare, haircare, bodycare, nailcare and makeup) is a welcome retreat that will soothe your body, mind and soul. When you can't be in Hawaii, let Hawaii come to you. "I started my mail order business," says Connie, "so people could have a piece of paradise when they left the islands and for those who could not come to the islands."

Now you can treat yourself to a special touch of Hawaii with the connie gayle beauty centre services and/or beauty products. Aloha.
